STRATEGIES TO COUNTERACT THE ATTACKS ON ASYLUM

The panelists will explore the implications of Matter of A–B– on the PSG ground, what it means for the future of asylum seekers in these social groups, and strategies to combat the concerted attacks on asylum by the current administration.*

*The current administration's policy changes to all aspects of the U.S. immigration system are making things increasingly difficult for the undocumented person in the workforce. From temporary protected status (TPS) ending and leaving over 300,000 individuals from 10 countries without work authorization and legal status, to undocumented workers at greater risk of getting caught in ramped-up enforcement efforts, immigration attorneys must find new ways to help this besieged but hard-working community. BEST PRACTICES IN DETENTION

As the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) increases bed-space for detainees throughout California, representation for those held in detention has become more prevalent. The panelists will address how to represent a detained client efficiently and successfully. In addition, as opportunities for release on bond diminish, the panelists will discuss how to properly evaluate whether a client is eligible for bond or is deemed ineligible under mandatory detention.
