

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Debbie Smith is Associate General Counsel/Immigration Law at the Service Employees International Union (SEIU). Prior to that she was a senior attorney at CLINIC. Ms. Smith has worked as a staff attorney at the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit in San Francisco, a partner at the immigration law firm Simmons & Ungar, the national coordinator of the American Baptist Churches (ABC) class action settlement, and a staff attorney at the International Institute of the East Bay.

Charles Wheeler directs CLINIC's Training & Legal Support division. Prior to that he directed the National Immigration Law Center in Los Angeles and the Colorado Rural Legal Services Farmworker Program. He has been involved in immigration law and immigrants' rights efforts for more than 30 years.

Ilissa Mira is a staff attorney in CLINIC's Training and Legal Support division and is based in Oakland. She was previously an attorney fellow at California Rural Legal Assistance Foundation.

Susan Schreiber is a managing attorney in CLINIC's Training and Legal Support division and works in Chicago. She has practiced immigration law in several nonprofit immigration organizations for more than 30 years.